

STUDENT SERVICES

Student Services at Concordia University creates programs designed to help students build or attain life skills and developmental competencies. Academic pursuits should be foremost in a student's thinking, yet two-thirds of a student's time is spent outside the classroom. The successful student will develop tools outside of the classroom to work on personal issues such as spiritual development, intellectual and social competence, development of a sense of purpose, self-worth, and career direction.

Student Service programs include new student orientation, academic advising, residence life, career guidance, personal counseling, student activities, student government, health services, campus safety, and dining services. Program specifics can be found in the Student Handbook. (<http://intranet.cu-portland.edu/students/documents/StudentHandbook.pdf>)

The faculty's Community Life Committee provides philosophical and policy-related guidance to the Student Services staff.

Residence Life

For residential students, life in the community is rich. Professional and resident advisor staff members work hard to offer programming relevant to the current world. The physical environment is structured to foster personal as well as recreational interaction between residents.

Concordia University has defined a set of values for the residential community. These values are implemented through a set of interpersonal and behavioral expectations for on-campus residents as well as visitors to the campus that emphasizes visitation and quiet hours, appropriate choices, and the prohibition of drugs and alcohol. Students are asked to respect the rights and freedoms of others while holding up the ideal of the Christian community as the center of residential life.

Housing Requirements

Traditional Students

The University has a two-year residency requirement for new, traditional-age students. Students under 21 years of age transferring to Concordia must live on campus for at least one year. Please see the Student Handbook (<http://intranet.cu-portland.edu/students/documents/StudentHandbook.pdf>) for specifics.

International Students

International Students are provided the following housing options:

1. University housing (campus residence halls) for undergraduate students
2. Undergraduate students who are 21 years of age and older and graduate students should make their own arrangements to live off-campus. The Department of International Studies will assist with housing options.

It is recommended that undergraduate International Students first live in University housing. This helps students learn the most about American culture and American higher education and provides the best setting in which to learn English.

Academic Advising

Freshmen and transfer undergraduate students entering Concordia participate in a comprehensive academic advising program. This program provides new students with their first links to the Concordia University community. Students are matched with an advisor who knows Concordia and understands the student's major course of study and career path, or who can assist in helping students to identify skills, aptitudes, and interests while considering major options.

A comprehensive and exciting orientation program will help students make the transition from previous educational experiences to those at Concordia University. In addition, special seminars, counseling, activities, and programs are available for all students to enjoy a successful and rewarding higher education experience.

Advisors will help each student plan a program of study, select courses, and assist them in a variety of academic matters. It is the responsibility of the student to maintain normal progress and to select the proper courses leading to his or her chosen degree.

Disability Support Services

Concordia University welcomes students with disabilities. Any student with a documented learning, physical or mental disability who feels their disability may impact academic success may qualify to receive accommodations. On-campus students needing academic adjustments are required to contact Disability Support Services (DSS), no later than the second Friday of the semester for which you are seeking accommodation. Online students needing academic adjustments are required to contact a DSS, no later than the end of the first week of the term for which you are seeking accommodation. All discussions will remain confidential. Should an issue arise mid-semester, students should contact the DSS as soon as possible. However, not all mid-term requests can be guaranteed. Once your learning needs have been established and upon your consent, DSS will work with you, your professors, and your academic advisor to obtain appropriate learning accommodations.

Health and Counseling Services

Health Services

Due to the many stresses, roadblocks, and detours related to university life, students may at some point need some direct medical assistance. This can be found through the Health Center. The Health Center is located in the Faubion building and is open during the regular academic year.

Insurance/Athletic Insurance

Students are required to provide insurance coverage for their personal property, medical, and athletic needs. Most family insurance policies provide coverage for these concerns. Student group accident and emergency insurance information is available in Student Services, Administrative Services, or Health Services. This insurance is not sufficient for student athletes. Student athletes are required to show proof of adequate medical insurance before participating in any athletic activity. By Concordia University policy, all international students on an F-1 or J-1 visa are required to have health and repatriation insurance.

Counseling

In many ways, college students stand at the crossroads of transformation. Through education, building relationships, and personal development, students are making decisions today that will impact the rest of their lives. Concordia University seeks to assist in this endeavor by providing opportunities for growth within a Christian context. The Counseling Center offers confidential, individual counseling sessions with a trained and experienced counselor to any student, free of charge.

The Counseling Center wants to help students have a positive and beneficial Concordia experience. Whether it's academics, personal healing, or just a listening ear, students are encouraged to come in and talk.

Career Development

Through a variety of resources, including individual career counseling, access to the Internet, computer-assisted career guidance programs, a career resource library, career assessments, and a job listing service, students are encouraged to take responsibility for investing their lives in purposeful activity. Workshops and seminars are offered throughout the year that focuses on career planning and job search skills.

In cooperation with the four academic colleges, Concordia's Career Development Program is designed to provide services and opportunities to meet the needs of the diverse student population. Contact the Student Services Office for more information and appointments.

Public Safety

Concordia's Public Safety Office provides 24-hour security and is responsible for the safety of the campus community and for the protection of property. The Public Safety Office works with the residence staff and maintains close contact with local law enforcement agencies. After dark, students may request personal escorts.

Vehicle Registration

All vehicles are required to be registered with Concordia's Public Safety Office. It is the student's responsibility to observe all State of Oregon ordinances with respect to registration and operation of motor vehicles. Students are also required to adhere to all City of Portland and Concordia University parking regulations (see the Campus Safety web site (<http://www.cu-portland.edu/student-affairs/campus-safety/parking-policy-information>) for more detailed parking information). Concordia does not assume liability for loss or damage of automobiles, motorcycles, or bicycles by theft or accident. Valuables should not be stored in parked vehicles. Owners are advised to provide adequate insurance protection to cover any loss or damage.
